The Deputy Leader of the Council, Councillor Lamb, paid tribute to each of the following Members for their hard work and contributions to the Council and to the local community they represented:-

Councillor Danforth
Councillor M Dyson
Councillor Felton

The Mayor presented Councillors Danforth, Gillis, Hand-Davis, Platts and Lamb, the retiring Members who were present at the meeting, with a glass bowl in recognition of their service. In line with Councillor P Fielding's wishes, a donation to the Mayor's Charity was made in lieu of receiving a commemorative glass bowl.

It was noted that those Members retiring but not in attendance would be presented with a glass bowl at a later date.

Many other Members of the Council added their own thanks and best wishes to the retiring Members. The Mayor also thanked all retiring Councillors for their hard work and dedication.

Councillors Danforth, P Fielding, Gillis, Hand-Davis, Lamb, and Platts responded to the kind words and thanked other Members and also officers for the help and support they received whilst being Members of the Council.

179. Communications

Honorary Membership of the National Faculty of Public Health

The Executive Director Public Health and Communities announced that former Councillor and Deputy Leader, Jim Andrews had been recognised for his outstanding contribution to public health in Barnsley. He had been awarded a prestigious honorary membership of the National Faculty of Public Health.

Jim Andrews was the cabinet spokesperson for public health from 2015 to 2022. He gave the role the same commitment, determination and hard work he gave to everything he did. She said that the Public Health team knew he always had their backs and this meant they dared to be brave – from launching a nationally recognised ‘making smoking invisible’ programme, to bringing the public health nursing service into the council from the NHS and developing it to become a national beacon of good practice.

She added that he never sought the limelight, but was always there to do whatever was needed to support public health and the NHS – for example when he quietly volunteered week in, week out, at the covid vaccination centre. It was noted that it was the first ever posthumous award made by the Faculty and was a fitting tribute to his consistent and fearless advocacy for public health in Barnsley.

Members heard that the award would be presented to Jim's partner, Sharon Howard in June after its annual general meeting at the Royal College of Physicians in London.

Councillor Howard added her thanks, and that she wished he was around to receive the recognition he deserved for tirelessly improving the health of residents, thanks were also provided to the Public Health team for the nomination.

A number of other Councillors, including the Mayor, added their praise of Jim Andrews, and the recognition the award provided, not only for him, but the Public Health team.
